Announcement

We are delighted to invite you to the Chinese Week at the School of Business and Economics in Berlin in July 2010. The Chinese Week is part of the celebrations of the 200th anniversary of the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin.

The school cooperates intensively with a number of Chinese partner universities and each year a large number of Chinese students graduate from our programs. To further develop scientific contacts, foster student exchange and strengthen the alumni network, the Chinese week will provide plenty of opportunities for academic and private exchange.

It consists of an official part with presentations by universities, alumni and students, a top-level international conference, and the Humboldt-Xiamen Workshop.

The academic program features multiple sessions with submitted papers covering a broad range of areas in economics, finance, applied statistics and management as well as keynote lectures by:

- Yongmiao Hong, Cornell University & Xiamen University
- Kalok Chan, HKUST
- Henry Lu, National Chiao Tung University
- Qiwei Yao, LSE

The academic part will be complemented with an extended social program.

Humboldt-Xiamen Workshop

To strengthen the relationship among academic scholars from China and Germany and to promote the exchange of research ideas, Xiamen University and Humboldt University at Berlin launched a series of workshops on economics and finance.

The first XMU-HUB Workshop, organized by Wang Yanan Institute for Studies in Economics (WISE), took place in April 2008 at Xiamen University.

We continue the series with the second workshop in Berlin in the framework of celebrations of the 200th anniversary of the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, on July 22-23, 2010.

The workshop is on Friday, July 23 and covers topics in economics, applied statistics and finance. We explicitly invite participants from other universities and research institutions to participate and submit papers.
